

New Zealand Flag Design Alternatives

A sampler of 420 New Zealand national flag designs from newzealand.flagoptions.com, circa 2025

This flag design sampler has been split into two images, each displaying roughly half of the 420-design total. The first sampler image is at the bottom of this page, and the second sampler image is on the page following. High-resolution images of each of the flag designs and of each of the flag design variants that are shown in the two sampler images can be found on the website newzealand.flagoptions.com. Additional provisions on the website allow every design and variant to be viewed in all wind conditions, including in a lack of wind, and PDFs for each design and for several of the variants provide detailed descriptions, including illustrations of how the designs and variants can be adapted into all of New Zealand's civil and Defence Forces ensigns, as well as its emergency services flags, its United Nations ensign, and several of the other major flags and ensigns of the nation. The website provides extensive resources for aspiring New Zealand flag designers and for future New Zealand national flag change referendum committees. Visitors of the website will also find a prototype of a New Zealand flag change survey.

This PDF has been compiled in a non-standard size in order to better accommodate its two large images without visual degradation. Although the PDF has been sized proportionally so that it can be printed directly from an Internet browser onto two sheets of standard A4 paper, it will preferably be downloaded for viewing on a computing device, using a PDF utility such as the free Adobe Acrobat Reader. This will not only allow the viewer to zoom in on the individual flag designs in the two images, but to highlight both of the images for a 'copy-and-paste' operation into a graphics program. The pasted images will then be at their full native sizes and at their maximum resolutions. In Acrobat Reader this can be done by using the 'selection tool', which will appear as an arrow icon at the top of the reader window. Click the tool on the images to highlight them, right-click the images to copy them, and then paste the images into your graphics program.
